

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF

DEPARTMENT OF INSPECTION.

Hon. Winfield T. Durbin, Governor of Indiana:

Sir—I have the honor of submitting to you the seventh annual report of the Department, in accordance with Section 21, Chapter 142, approved March 2, 1899.

The law requires that we have a general oversight of all manufacturing and mercantile establishments, laundries, renovating works, bakeries and printing offices; that the laws relating to child labor may not be violated by the employment of children under fourteen years of age; that they are not permitted to work more than ten hours per day; that none are employed who are physically unable for such work; that illiterates between the ages of fourteen and sixteen years are not permitted to work except during school vacation; where women are employed in such establishments that resting seats be provided and that they be permitted to use them when not otherwise engaged; that proper toilet arrangements be made for their use, including wash and dressing rooms; as well as to see that they are not employed in manufacturing establishments after 10 p. m.

The law also makes it our duty to see that dangerous machinery of every description, including vats and pans, be properly guarded; that belt shifters are provided; also exhaust fans to carry away the dust from emery and buffing wheels and dust creating machinery of every description.

The law provides that each workman shall have not less than two hundred and fifty cubic feet of air space between the hours of 6 a. m. and 6 p. m., and four hundred cubic feet between the hours of 6 p. m. and 6 a. m., and that ample and proper means of ventilation be secured.

Chapter 222 makes it our duty to see that every public building, public or private institution, sanatorium, surgical institute, asylum, school house, dormitory, church, theater, public hall, place of assemblage or place of public resort; and every building in which persons are employed above the second story in a factory, workshop or mercantile or other establishment, and every hotel, family hotel, apartment house, boarding house, lodging house, or tenement house in which persons reside or lodge above the second story; and every factory, workshop, mercantile or other establishment of more than two stories in height shall be provided with proper ways of egress and means of escape from fire sufficient for the use of all persons accommodated, assembled, lodged or residing in such buildings.

Chapter 35, providing for the sanitation of food producing establishments, adds greatly to our duties. The most noticeable improvements are in bakeries, confectionery and canning establishments, where, previous to the enactment of this law, the health of the public was not conserved.

The proper discharge of the duties of an inspector in enforcing these laws requires a practical knowledge not often possessed by any one person, but by a judicious selection of deputies from the various trades and a frequent interchange of views. We believe that our present force of deputies is on a par with an equal number of inspectors from any other body whose duties are similar in character.

The Legislature, at its last session, added to our duties by passing laws relating to the inspection of steam boilers; the inspection of naphtha and other launches on the inland lakes and rivers of the State, and one relating to the maintaining of temporary floors in buildings in course of erection more than three stories high. All of these are important measures and should be enforced.

Indiana has just reason to be proud of her manufacturing establishments. Forty-six of them employ more than five hundred persons each, taking rank with those of other states, the smaller ones vying with them for the honor of producing the best in their line. The following are some of the products of her factories that have a national or world-wide reputation: Wagons, plows, plate glass, window glass, bottles, furniture, axes, tin plate, carriages, felt boots, strawboard. Many of these plants are models of their kind, all of them having made great advancement since the factory laws were first brought to their attention.

In some cases, the orders and suggestions made by this Department were of such a character that they could not be complied with for want of room. But new sites have been selected, new buildings erected with up-to-date improvements in way of machinery, fans, safety devices, heating, lighting and toilet arrangements, and they can scarcely be compared with that of the plant before removal.

It is possible these establishments contemplated enlarging before we visited them. Nevertheless, we are of the opinion that we hastened the completion of their contemplated plans, much to the comfort and health of employes and to the firms' satisfaction and profit.

It is only when you enter these plants that you receive an idea of their magnitude. You are at first confused, if it is a wood-working plant, by the continued hum of the exhaust fan which gathers up the dust, shavings and off-fall from the various machines, carrying them to and depositing them beneath the boilers. The dust, shavings and off-fall produce steam sufficient to operate the entire plant, the action of the fan keeping the air pure and clear.

It is exceedingly interesting to follow the many operations as they pass from hand to hand of boy and man, as lumber from the dry-kiln to rip-saw, cut-off and bandsaws on to planer, jointer and frizzer, rabbet and boring machines, sander and smoothing machines in a continuous train of truck loads passing from one department to another, finally to meet in the assembling room; there to be fitted together, polished, finished and crated ready for shipment. The output is so great where two thousand or more persons are employed that we wonder where a market for it can be found, or how long it will be before the demand will be supplied.

The industries of the State, with the exception of the steel and window glass industries, have enjoyed another year of prosperity. Overtime and extra sets of workmen are not in evidence as they were last year. We know of none, however, except those mentioned, who have not had all the orders they could conveniently fill.

The window glass industries are in a demoralized condition, owing to the introduction of a blowing machine which can be operated with unskilled labor. If the cylinders so successfully made by these machines can be flattened and cut into the larger sizes, the cost of building would be very materially reduced.

Consolidation, or merging of small plants into one or under one management, is on the increase. Previous to the formation of the Republic Iron & Steel Company, there were eleven mills in this State engaged in the manufacture of bar iron, employing 4,181 workmen. Of the eleven mills, they purchased ten. Up to this date, they have closed or moved out of the State all but four which employ 3,116 workmen, and these not continuously. By closing or dismantling so many small plants, they encouraged former owners, workmen and others in the erection of other independent mills, five in number, employing 2,800.

The cement mills, apparently, have been merged under one management. In 1902, we found thirteen mills in operation, employing 1,006. In 1903, we find seven in operation, employing 1,136 people.

The same is true in other lines, but not to the same extent as in the steel and cement industries. What effect these consolidations will have on the employes remains to be demonstrated.

BOILER EXPLOSIONS.

There have been twenty-one boiler explosions in the last year, resulting in seven deaths and twenty-one injuries. Two explosions occurred in large establishments; five in small saw mills; three at oil and water pumping stations, one each in creamery, stone quarry and slaughter house.

That they could have been prevented if the proper precautions had been taken is not denied by those who understand the handling of steam boilers. When coroners return verdicts of criminal negligence in ninety-five per cent. of deaths caused by such explosions, there will be more care taken by those who are responsible for such negligence.

The law enacted by the last General Assembly is a step in the right direction. Others will have to be added to make it as effective as justice and humanity demands.

THE WEEKLY PAYMENT OF WAGES.

The law requiring the weekly payment of wages has been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the State. We had hoped for a different decision.

Manufacturers and others had become acquainted with, and were complying with its provisions, except, as stated in previous reports, by a few of the larger corporations. Since the decision has been handed down, we have received a number of complaints from employes of corporations doing business, temporarily, in the State who are taking every advantage of their employes by having no regular pay day; by paying off in checks for less amounts than were due, cashing them at a discount. The amounts retained in each case were not large enough to justify any one workman in feeing a lawyer and waiting the slow processes of the courts, but where a large number of workmen are employed the aggregate would be quite a sum.

The law was a good one. It placed no hardship on the honest, humane employer, and was a protection to that class of workmen who can least afford to be robbed of their earnings by the "Shylocks" and unscrupulous employers. As "Publicity can do no harm to the honest corporation," neither do mandatory laws affect only those who are disposed to be unfair in their dealings with their employes.

NEW LAWS.

This Department has been given three new laws to enforce, or rather three new laws have been enacted that this Department is supposed to see enforced. Yet, in only one of them is this directly stated. Even then we are called the "Bureau of Factory Inspection" when it should have been the Department of Inspection.

Chapter 21, approved February 21, 1903, is an act to compel owners of steamboats, naphtha and gas engine launches to have them inspected twice between the 15th day of April and the 1st day of August, by some person holding a certificate of competency from a reputable, technical school or institute, or if such a one can not be had, then the inspection may be made by any reputable engineer or machinist qualified to make the same, not of kin to nor in the employment of such owner or person running such boat. But before either of these classes of persons can make such inspections, the law requires that they have a certificate of authority from the State Factory Inspector who is to keep a copy of such inspection on file in his office. These provisions leave the impression that this Department is responsible for the actions of these inspectors. However natural this may appear, yet it is erroneous. We know nothing of these inspectors except as they are recommended to us by persons claiming to be reputable citizens, upon whose recommendations we issue the certificate of authority.

The boat owners are not averse to having their vessels inspected, nor to paying for the same, but as the boats are in commission but little more than four months, one inspection would be sufficient for each season.

The boiler inspection law, which applies to all boilers of more than ten horsepower in industrial establishments, has demonstrated its usefulness. The certificates of inspection on file in this office are evidences in themselves of the necessity of such a law, and establish the fact that some persons can have charge of dangerous machinery for many years and know but very little about some important matters connected with their trade, and whose ignorance oftentimes causes their own injury as well as that of others.

I especially refer to some stationary engineers who have had years of experience but not the least idea of the strength of the material in the boiler or the force of the steam confined therein. Just so long as men are employed as engineers on their own statement of competency and qualification to have charge of steam boilers will we have explosions with loss of life. A number one boiler in the hands of such a person is much more dangerous than a defective one in charge of a man who understands the nature, pressure and dangers of steam.

This can only be remedied by a licensing engineers' law.

VIOLATIONS OF LAW.

Complaints are frequently made to this office that certain establishments are violating the law by employing children under age. These complaints are always investigated. So far we have failed to act upon but a limited number of such complaints because they were frequently hearsay or of indefinite information.

There have been suits entered and fines imposed in six cases. Four were in glass factories and two in bottling establishments. There is a very general disposition on the part of the manufacturers to obey the law, and, outside of the glass industries, there is little inducement offered for its violation. The boy problem with the glass people is quite a serious one, especially with the bottle houses who are unable to secure a sufficient number of the proper age in towns where they are located. We find in some of them as many men employed at boys' work as there are boys employed.

PROTECTION IN CASE OF FIRE.

The General Assembly of 1903 amended the law relating to fire escapes. It now applies to buildings three stories in height when used for hotels, lodging and apartment houses. This was a much needed change, and affords means of escape from this class of buildings.

In the report of this Department for 1900, recommendations were made relating to the construction of new buildings to be used for hotels, sanatoriums, etc., which would prevent the spread of fire through the entire building in a few minutes. Nothing, however, has been done. Buildings are erected, apparently of brick, but every partition on the inside is of the most inflammable character. Even elevator wells and light shafts are constructed of studding and lath. This is an exceedingly dangerous, if not criminal, practice and should be prevented by law. All elevator shafts should be of brick or of fireproof construction.

Where floor beams rest on wooden sills, they should be filled in between from the caps, girders, girts or sills to the lining or floor above; and where partition studdings rest on lining, they should be filled in with brick and mortar at least four inches in height.

By using these precautions, frame buildings would be much safer; the spread of fire would be delayed, giving occupants much more time to escape. Without such precautions, the whole building is enveloped in flames in an incredibly short time, and lives are lost before they can reach the fire-escape.

ACCIDENTS.

There have been 1,186 accidents reported to this office, a much greater number than any previous year. Of these, 496 were of such a slight character that they did not cause the loss of a week's time, and no further notice was taken of them. Six hundred and ninety were more than slight, and of these 291 occurred where machinery was not used, leaving 399 to be the result of dangerous machinery. Quite a number of these can be credited to carelessness and removal of safety devices.

Comparing the accidents reported in other states with those of our own State, we are convinced that the laws requiring the reporting of accidents and the use of safety devices are fully as well, if not better, observed than in other states where similar laws are in force.

The receptions accorded the representatives of this Department, when presenting their credentials at the offices of the various establishments, are quite different from what they were when the first visits were made. We are almost universally greeted with an extended hand, and the remark, "We are glad to see you."

The manufacturers have learned that we are not there to interfere with either their business or employes, and that our recommendations are reasonable and for the benefit of all concerned. They do find fault with us, however, because of our visits being so few and far between. With our present force, it is all we can do to call once each year.

Very respectfully submitted,

DANIEL H. McABEE,

Chief Inspector.

Tabulated Statement of Inspections Made

BY THE —

DEPARTMENT OF INSPECTION OF INDIANA.

The following is an explanation of figures in column marked "Orders Issued and Complied With:"

- No. 1. Relates to guarding machinery and belting.
- No. 2. Relates to affidavits, registers, and the posting of laws, and names of those between the ages of fourteen and sixteen years.
- No. 3. Relates to toilet, wash-rooms and resting seats.
- No. 4. Relates to elevators, hoisting shafts and stairways.
- No. 5. Relates to fire-escapes, exits, alarms and the posting of notices, in sleeping rooms, how to reach fire-escapes.
- No. 6. Relates to air space, water and ventilation.
- No. 7. Relates to bake-shop regulations.
- No. 8. Relates to inspection of boilers or anything pertaining thereto.
- No. 9. Unclassified.

Figures in black faced type indicate the orders that have been reported as having been complied with.

Notice.—November and December are months of 1902.

Selections from the 1,996 Orders Issued

BY THE

DEPARTMENT OF INSPECTION.

Showing the lines along which the Department is working, as well as the many phases of knowledge necessary for the proper discharge of the duties.

These orders are revised, corrected and mailed by the Chief Inspector on blanks prepared for that purpose from the office, 91 State House, where all communications with reference to same should be addressed.

EXHIBIT D.

Selections from the 1,996 Orders Issued by the Department of Inspection.

- June 26. Have boiler inspected twice a year as required by law; place another gauge-cock on water column; box in oval bevel gear, in basement of mill; cover or countersink all exposed or protruding setscrews, and post laws.
- Sept. 16. Provide guard along fly-wheel and belt of engine; provide counterbalance weight for swing cut-off saw and dispense with rope; have boiler inspected; provide guard for rip saw, and post laws.
- Oct. 31. Provide signal bell in engine room with wire bellpull extending to top floor; cover or countersink exposed setscrews on north end of Nordyke & Marmon differential reel, and on each side of main pulley on short shaft, next to roof; provide hand rail around head of stairs and down to second floor; have boiler inspected twice a year, and keep certificate of such inspection on file in your office.
- Oct. 31. Connect dust creating machinery (sand-belts and sanders) with exhaust fan for the better removal of dust, which is injurious to the health of workmen; have boiler inspected twice a year as required by law, and keep a certificate of such inspection on file in your office, and post law in your mill.
- Oct. 31. Hinge window screens at bottom so they can be pushed or tipped outward at the top, for the purpose of liberating flies from bakeshop; provide a smokehood, with flue connection, on front of oven for removal of smoke; lime wash or paint walls and ceilings of bakeshop, and post law and expectorating notices.
- Apr. 16. Replace rope and weight on cut-off saw with counterbalance weight; provide guard for edging saw; erect guard rail along main belt; secure trycocks for boiler, and cover or countersink all setscrews in collars and hubs of pulley wheels.
- July 3. Provide guards for all rip saws; replace rope and weight on cut-off saw with counterbalance weight, and provide a hood for same; erect a guard rail along main belt and around engine, and have boiler inspected.

- Sept. 16. Provide guard rail along the walks at the top of water tube boilers and around the head of stairs leading to same, with hand rails on same stairs; provide railing around machine room engine; cover all belts in beater rooms; cover or countersink all setscrews in collars and hubs of pulley wheels, and report all accidents to this Department.
- Sept. 25. Provide a new cable for factory elevator.
- Oct. 27. Repair plastering on ceiling of bakeshop, and remove water closet from kitchen.
- Dec. 22. Cover all projecting bolts on coupling on line shaft, in buggy body room; place shield over cut-off saw and use counter-balance weight in place of small rope; cover lower pulley of band saw; see that elevator gate is kept closed, at third story of body department; provide guard for rip saw; report all accidents to this Department, and post laws.
- Dec. 31. Repair gauge-cocks on your boiler; place water column on the same, with one inch connections; provide guard for rip saw; place shield over edging saw, and post law in saw mill.
- Jan. 9. Place guard rail around fly-wheel of engine; provide not less than a three-fourths inch pipe from water column, and see that connections are kept in good condition; place balance weight on cut-off saw and place hood over the same; provide a water closet for your men; report accidents to this Department which occurred a short time ago, and post law in mill.
- July 13. The proper adjustment and use of top outward-tipping window screens, in connection with cold blast fans will serve to liberate and prevent the collection of flies in mincemeat rooms, where the use of poison for their destruction should be discontinued.
- July 11. Cover or countersink all exposed, protruding setscrews in collars on shafting overhead; provide a suitable inclosure for open sugar barrel and sugar scales, and remove same from open exposure to flies; electric or power fans properly located, with blast properly directed, will expel flies from mixing machines, and serve as a substitute for doors and window screens, otherwise required. (See sections 3 and 7, Sanitation Law) and post sanitation laws in work room.
- July 14. Remove and permit no overhead loose or tipping plank (see from mule pulley to line shaft); remove checked and unsafe plank in overhead foot walk, east end of shop; safeguard or cover gear and lower level gear on vertical shaft which propels pivot shear and press; cover any and all exposed protruding set screws in collars on line shaft, and report accidents to this Department.

- July 15. Improve the sanitary conditions of men's water closet by roofing same and treating vault with disinfectants and deodorizing. Cover or remove the exposed, protruding set screws in collars in rattler room and on second floor (this must not be deferred); connect emery wheel with exhaust fan for removal of dust.
- July 18. Provide, at once, screens for doors and windows, as the law requires; clear your bakery from the hordes of flies that now infect it; clean your floors, furniture and woodwork, and keep same in sanitary condition; permit no accumulation of off-fall in or about your bakeshop. Immediate compliance with above is necessary.
- June 3.
